Iere's an easy way to save $2, and jet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes held of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry; hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. You got to be nights carrying a sack full of money, and things like that. You got to be careful. So when we'd got all the stuff together, my mate and I we didn't quite know what to do; there was jewelry, that's nothing; one can put that in one's pocket. But there was lots of other stuff; gold snuffboxes, silver Sauce boats, combs all over diamonds. It would have broken over dismonds, it would have broken my 'eart to leave it. So my mate, 'e 'nd an idea. We got 'old of two of these 'ere figures; the inside of the stand is empty. So we shared out, and we each put our half in a lay figure. He pointed to the ground: "And ther's my 'alf. If you say the word, you can 'ave it for a 'undred pounds."

It was very tempting to arrest the man forthwith: no doubt, by this means, all the property would be recovered, since the other man could be

WASHINGTON Jan. 29.—(By The A. P.)-Income tax payers got their first slice of the proposed fax relief today when the house ways and means committee adopted the recommendation of Secretary Mellon to allow a special 25 per cent reduction in the tax on incomes which are "earned."

Treasury estimates show that about 13,000,000 tax payers have incomes of less than $5,000, and automatically could deduct from their tax when computed 25 per cent of its total. Thus a married man with two children who now pays a tax of $28 on an income of $4,000 would pay only $21,00, this figure not taking into account any normal income tax reductions—a

Secretary Mellon's recommendations for special reduction in the taxes on earned incomes provided for the 25 per any amount and defined earned incomes as that received from wages, salaries and professional services.

ON OUR OWN RESOURCES

HE individual who is thrown upon his own resources, in a great many instances becomes the man upon whom others depend. His growth, mental and physical, is more than likely to be of a substantial character. When his perseverance and pluck is crowned with success, well may he take pride in the accomplishment. His family and friends honor him. To them he typifies the spirit that has made American business men and their methods the envy

A city like an individual is no greater in wealth, strength or otherwise than its citizens make it. It matters not how much wealth, how great the natural advantages of the place, if the people who live there allow the wealth and advantages to lie dormant, it will never grow.

Portsmouth has the wealth, it has the natural advantages far in excess of most cities. Its health and climate are advantages that many cities would give untold millions to

Why should not Portsmouth be the master of its own destiny, why should foreign capital and brains be looked for in the development of the city? Why is it that opportunity after opportunity present themselves, only to be allowed to be killed quickly or die a lingering but sure death? Can it be the fear of being thrown on one's own resource?

The outside promoter who interests local capital and brains in an enterprise, is ordinarily some one far less capable than the associate gained. His interest is naturally and necessarily for the absolute purpose of personal gain. He cannot be expected to take into consideration the fact that the enterprise from which he expects pecuniary gain should also be a credit to the city. Foreign capital is not condemned, it is needed, wanted and welcomed here, but those citizens of the city who possess capital and brains necessary for the development of Portsmouth should not need a stimulant to enable them to stand fairly and squarely upon their own resources in the upbuilding and development of their home. And so the city which is made great and developed by its own citizens becomes the city of strength, and the builders, with the consciousness of having brought this about take pride in their accomplishment. The character of the development brings out the best which is given by community interest and causes its people to become fixed in their determination to carry on the work which their neighbors have begun.

LO! THE RICH INDIAN

HERE are worse states than being an Indian, especially if one is of the Osage tribe in Oklahoma. It wasn't an Osage of whom Pope spoke in his "Essay on Man." But the Osages closely resemble white folks in one respectthe more they have the more they want. At present each family is drawing about $14,000 n year income from oil, and that is not enough, they think, to maintain their position in Indian society. A delegation is now in Washington asking increased allowances. The government does not permit them to spend their money as fast as it comes in. About two-thirds of the annual return is deposited at interest, lest a day come when the oil wells cease to yield so bountcously.

In most ways these Indians act just like white people. They have big automobiles and find that it costs much to maintain them. When they go to Washington they hire suites in the highest-priced hotels. They are able to pay, too. They onvinced that money was made to spend and thus they tally with many pale faces. Thus we discern that Indians take the ways of civilization if that is what we are living amidst. The Indian's "untutored mind" is amenable to tutoring in certain directions not less aptly than the white man's. He may stick to his blanket as an article of apparel but he appreciates what money commands in a physical sense. The latter is the only use many whites have for money.
